Dedication

"The way in which education starts a man will determine his future life."

Education has been offered to us on a golden platter. Some have partaken liberally; others bitten and rejected. That is our choice and right.

We have studied the classics, marveling at the ingenuity of past civilizations. Science, possessing and pursuing knowledge, has captured us. Mathematics demands our concentration and logical reasoning. All this and more, education offers us. It is through the pursuance of knowledge that youth is able to meet the complexities of adult life. Therefore, we dedicate this yearbook to Education. May its torch burn brightly.

Foreword

As September rolls into May, students engage in many activities. This year the annual staff has divided the yearbook into six different phases which, we believe, constitute our school life.

First comes WE LEARN, the section which includes classroom pictures, teachers, and administrators. Next WE ORGANIZE into honor organizations and clubs; WE HARMONIZE in the various music groups; WE DRAMATIZE plays and the operetta; WE PLAY at basketball, football, bowling, and the other numerous sports which attract us. Last WE BELONG to our school class and to Fargo High.

In Appreciation

Many of us students do not realize the services which Mr. Kirk has rendered us. We are familiar with the work of our classroom teachers and school officials because we come in contact with them daily, but Mr. Kirk works behind the scene. Few of us knew who the man entering our grade-school classroom viviso often was. With his supervision we have received the benefits of education under a well organized system

For your years of devoted service, Mr. Kirk, we'd like to thank you and wish you success and happiness in the future

"The students of Fargo High bring you Cynosure of the Air." These words begin the program over station KFGO every Monday night at 7.30

The Cynosure of the Air staff is chosen by essays which the applicants write in the spring and recordings which they also make at this time. The grades of these are averaged together, and the persons with highest so are admitted to the staff

Each week the students give news of what has happened and what will happen both in school and in the social life of F. H. S. They also have on every broadcast some that them our school. The stiff has been ministers who work long and hard the their many exclusive stories.

The Senior Class Play. The Late Christopher Bean was presented on April 2 and 3. It was a three-act comedy centered around the Hagget family. The scene was laid in a typical New Eigland village. The actors, speaking in the vernacular of that section, portrayed a story of selfishness and greed. But virtue triumphed, and the heroine, Abby, received the wealth. The play was a fitting climax to the dramatic vert

. . One-Act Play

Each year Fargo High School holds a one-act play contest. The plays "Isle", "A Sunny Morning", "The Taming of the Shrew" were presented on March 19. The judges, Mr. Earhart, Miss Wheeler, and Miss Uthus, chose "The Taming of the Shrew" as the play to represent Fargo High at the Special Festival held in Grand Forks on March 26. "The Taming of the Shrew" was an adaptation by Ken Corwin of William Shakespeare's famous comedy Katharina, the shrew, Petruchio, the tamer, Baptista, the long suffering father, Bianca, the sweet sister, and the various servants stepped from Shakespeare's time on to the Fargo High stage

A list of almost 250, an orchestra of 22, and a production staff of many ambitious students and teachers collaborated to make Rudolph Primi's operetta an outstanding event in Fargo High School's history

The pounding of hammers and the swish of brushes gradually brought to realism the beautiful scenes of Bermuda and New York City. Slowly the tall palm trees and breezy veranda began taking shape, and before long there was a huge yacht in the background, shining with all the splendor of the North Atlantic Ocean.

Almost anytime of the day one person, or a group of persons, could be found on the stage rehearing speaking parts or singing strains from the many songs in this operatta

The presentation of "The Firefly" on three evenings, February 25, 26, and 27, brought to a close the long and tedious hours of work. To all who participated, the success of the operetta was the fulfillment of their efforts and dreams

Track

The track team, under the direction of Coach Art Dronen, had an excellent nucleus for a good team this year. Some of the veterans from the 1953 season who helped lead the team are: Moyer, hurdles; Herzog, Thomasson, dashes; Forsyth, Williams, high jump; Brown, polevault; Walter, distances. These veterans, along with several new hopefuls, practiced diligently in the gym and on the track when the weather permitted. Several meets were scheduled, and the season ended with the State Track Meet at Valley City

The Athletic Commission, pictured below, has no job of setting the policies and regulations for ne athletes of the school. One of its duties is nat of determining letter winners and ordering etters. The sophomore, junior, and senior classes re each represented with one member

Intre

The Intramural program flourished with action this year under the guidance of Mr. Melvey. The Intramural Council was set up as the governing body which determined the rules and regulations of the sport that was in progress at the time. Along with the regularly scheduled games, tournaments were an added feature that made the program more interesting. The Intramural schedule was well planned and well balanced in accordance with the time alloted for it

urals

The y ir started off with touch football, while a tennis and horse-shoe tournament were held in the side lights. A very success all golf tournament was staged at Edgewood Golf Course for the second year in a row More than fifty participants entered. Along with a good season of water polo, there were nattle ball contests for a few weeks. Basket wall was the long-awaited sport and conmitted until the end of March. The race or first place was close and finally ended in the case and the winner took first place for the eligible.

An Intramural Bowling League was continued all winter, as the A.C. bowling alleys were put into use every Saturday morning. Quite a sustained interest for bowling was cultivated in most of the boys. In between sports the apparatus and trampolines were put into good use also. In the spring, volley ball teams were chosen and organized in to very competitive leagues. Even Intramural wrestling matches were paired up after a demonstration on high-school wrestling was a temporal to the program ended with the summer sport, softball

We Play . . .

Girls' Sports

Tennis, anyone? These girls would give you stiff competition if you were to take them up on their offer. In the first row are Shirley Weisz and Carolyn Hanson, runner-up and winner respectively. In the back row are Beverly Nielson and Miriam Johnson, the consolation winners.

"The Champs"

'Heads up?' What gamed oes that signify? Why soccer, of course. Pictured here in the first row are Mary Ann Hess, Eleanor Webster, Jean MacGregor, Lois Williams. In the second row are Bonnie Gerrells, Bev Cummings, Mary Beth Kline, Bev Nielson. In the third row are Jean Monson, Deanna Carter, Mary Meckstroth, Anna Jane Can

"Fore!" That term is familiar to all these girls These golfers participated in the girls golf tournament. The champion was Linda Foster. In the front row, left to right, are Marilyn Siegel, Julie Person, Linda Foster. The second row consists of Karen Wilk, Sue Urevig, Sue Eggman, Liz Gro

Here we see a lively game of soccer in process. This game is played much the same as field hockey and originated in England.

Action is the keyword in these pictures. Bowling, swimming, soccer—all these sports offer not only good exercise but lots of fun too

Strike! That expression is becoming a familiar word to many girls around Fargo High. Bowling proved to be more popular this year than in any previous year.

Girls' Sports

Swimming to the soft strains of music, this class is in the process of learning life saving.

Girls' Sports

The Champs, or better known by their team name, the Chimps, be came the school champs by defeating both the sophomore and semor basketball champion teams

Looks like a basket! Although the girls are restricted to half of the playing court, they can make their game as exciting and full of action as any of the boys can

Weekend Fun

One of the nicest things about high school is the companionship with our classmates. We see them every day. We talk about the rough French assignments, we gossip about a new boyfriend, we flirt with a special boy or girl. We rub shoulders at games and scream for our team to win. If we do win, we drive down Broadway and really disturb the peace

We disturb the peace in other ways too; for instance, at all-night slumber parties, by just plain goofing around

Friday night finds us dancing at Canteen. Some like it fast, but most like it slow and smooth. Our favorite outdoor sport on weekends is hounding. If you've got a car, you're in

We work together on dramatic productions and pray that the other fellow doesn't forget his line. Athletics absorb much of our time, and through them we learn the "go and get 'em" spirit and the "one for all" idea

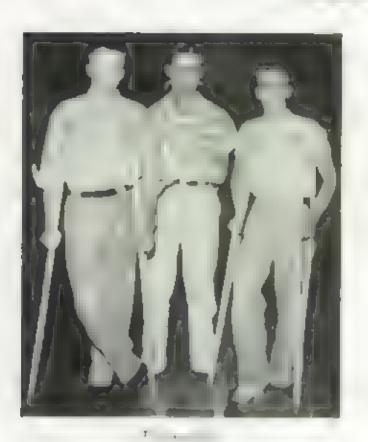

We're typical kids, and we spice whatever we do with fun. Because we're young, we like life, the very living of it. Best of all we, like being teenagers, and we like each other

Most of all, WE, the seniors, BELONG to Fargo High. Our purple and white jackets adorned with the numerals 1954 identify us with our class. Each morning we congregate around our lockers in the "Senior Hall". While stuffing coats into a space already bursting with broken pencils, slightly used kleenex, discarded test papers, overdue library books, costumes from the last pep assembly, and any other refuse it is possible to accumulate, we moan about the exam we're sure to flunk second hour. At 3:15 we meet again admitting the test wasn't so bad—in fact, we might have passed.

For three years our goal has been to graduate from Fargo High. But, as May and graduation loom closer, the realization that we shall miss F.H.S., our friends, and teachers hits us. We've enjoyed our stay at Fargo High as 247 individuals, differing in heights, weights, appearances, and tastes; yet we are united in our membership in the cass of 1954

Representative Students of 1954

WESLEY BROWN

"We belong" is the only way to describe the 293 juniors in this year's class. As sophomores, we spent a large part of our time getting acquainted with our new teachers, exploring all the corners of the high school, and meeting our classmates. As juniors we were "old-timers" at school, and started our junior year as a group instead of as individuals

The juniors this year have belonged to and taken an active part in all the extra-curricular activities. The leading female role in the all school play was dramatized by Lois Ivers, who also starred in the one acts. "The Firefly" saw many of the juniors singing in the chorus or playing in the orchestra. Audrey Puckering portrayed a French maid in the operetta, and the role of an elderly gentleman who charmed the ladies was successfully done by Los Kuppich

Football, basketball, track, hockey, and the swimming teams were provided with plenty of talent from the juniors, as the number of boys sporting letter sweaters will prove. The girls also took part in sports, and Anna Camp's basketball team, the "Chimps," rolled up a record of seven wins and no losses by beating the famous "Kigmies" in the playoffs

We are all proud of James Norris, better known to us as "Sam," for being elected 1954 state Student Council president. Sam has been active in all student council activities and for the past year has held the position of treasurer in our own student council

Our class officers had the "brainstorm" to sell candy during lunch hour. Our class also sponsored two dances, which a great number ittended. Roy Smillie and Sharon Elhott were elected as our student council pokesmen. Our idviser was Mr. Melvey, and to him goes a vote of thanks

Somehow, now that we have completed a year at Fargo High, the next two years look pretty good to us. Because of that indefinable "something" which wells up when all of us—seniors juniors, and sophomores—sing "Alma Mater" we now feel that we belong

Colored lights began to appear on the stores downtown as Fargo welcomed the Christmas season. For some the holidays promised excitement; for others, a long needed rest. As always, the season filled everyone with the special magic of anticipation. It seemed those two weeks of vacation took wings, for they ended too soon.

Back to school and back to the feverish rsuhing around to try to accomplish something. Many forwardlooking seniors planned to take the College Boards given in January and March. Several students had already chosen their college, and Miss Ramstad was kept busy filling out transcripts for the various colleges.

The debate team attended several meets, debating the question, "Resolved that the President of the U.S. should be elected by direct vote of the people". They climaxed their year by winning the State Debate Tournament, an honor which a Fargo team had not received for many years.

Our Fargo High boys did very well in the swimming pool, and the swim team chalked up another successful year with many record breakers. The hockey team didn't have as good luck. Blame it to the weather.

At the end of February, Fargo High put on the operetta "The Firefly". It was one of the best high school productions ever seen in this town, a very professional job. The whole school was behind this production, from the costumers, painters, and musicians to the understudies and the leads.

While we were wrapped in our own little world, the outside world was in a state of uneasiness. The truce in Korea was shaky, and Rhee was unhappy and agitating for another war. Bitter fighting raged in Indochina, as the world looked helplessly and hopelessly on. On the border of Israel there was a constant turmoil between the Jews and the Arabs. In Egypt, Farouk was ousted and General Naguib took the reins. He, too, had his troubles with officers in his army who felt they should run the government.

The Fargo-Moorhead Open Forum did a great deal toward bringing the world to Fargo. Among the distinguished speakers this year were Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Mr. Levin, Israeli diplomat.

City politics occupied our attention. The question whether to fluoridate or not to fluoridate was a burning issue. The people of Fargo saw fit to retain fluoridation. In the same election the Fargo voters chose Herschel Lashkowitz to be our new mayor. The race between Mr. Lashkowitz and Mr. Toussaint was very close and exciting. Our elections proved to us that city politics can be extremely interesting.

The month of March brought bitter cold weather and basketball tournaments. At our Eastern Division Tournament, Fargo was beaten in a thrilling game with Devils Lake. No one realized that we were going to lose until the last few seconds; the game was really close. Although the Fargo team didn't have a state berth, many Fargo High students went to Grand Forks to attend the State Tournament. The victor and state champ was Wahpeton.

Other spring events were the Science Fair and the Press Conference. Both the District and the State Science Fairs were held in Fargo. Many projects were entered, and the science department had a right to be proud of a fine show. The Press Conference was held in Grand Forks on May 11. The editors and business managers of the 1954-55 publications attended.

The year would not have been complete without mention of the dramatics department. In the beginning of the year, the play "One Foot in Heaven" was produced. After the operatta came the one act plays. This year Fargo put on three, and "The Taming of the Shrew" was chosen to represent Fargo High at Grand Forks. The final effort was the senior class play, "The Late Christopher Bean".

A few other events which had a great influence on us were: the new, more powerful H-Bomb was developed; Marilyn Monroe became Mrs. Joe DiMaggio; and the school decided to have a closed lunch hour.

With the coming of balmy breezes and cotton dresses came the realization for the seniors that this was the end. A sort of slow sadness crept over us as the days progressed. No more would we walk through the halls of Fargo High, or sit in the senior section, or sing with gusto "We are the seniors", or play at after school games, or cheer a Fargo High team, or dance at Canteen, or autograph class pictures, or sing in A Cappella, or go to vocal festivals, or attend tournaments. The golden days were slipping by to be gone forever. There were Senior Skip Day, Baccalaureate, and finally after exams were over and textbooks closed, Graduation. Goodbye school year 1953-54 and welcome summer.
